Creative central

One of our favourite online marketplaces has launched a beautiful new blog and digital magazine. Etsy Journal is an exciting new source of ideas and inspiration for creative living. It invites us into artists' studios, highlights emerging trends and shares gorgeous DIY projects to bring out our creative side. blog.etsy.com

Baby love

Welcome a little cherub into the world with this adorable handmade cushion. The cushion, which can be personalised with your name of choice, features a watercolour botanical illustration. It comes in three sizes, with prices starting at $42. thistleandfox.etsy.com

Bold blooms

Just imagine an Emma Cleine artwork draped across your bed or sofa. Here's your chance. The Melba Blanket is digitally printed on one side, with oatmeal linen on the reverse. A handmade tassel fringe completes the pretty picture. It's $390 and measures L200cm x W145cm. lumiereartandco.com.au

Sweet store

Brighten up your benchtop with this canister in pastel pink. The square canister, made from stoneware and rubber wood, features a contemporary design and is ideal for storing spices, herbs and other cooking essentials. It measures H11cm x W11cm x D11cm and is $5. kmart.com.au

Diamond mine

We reckon we're getting the hang of this indoor garden trend. Just look at this Diamond plant hanger, made from powder-coated steel. It's sure to add some lush pizzazz to a corner of your home. Priced from $145, it's available for pre-order, with delivery in October. capradesigns.com

Blossoming romance

The Night Garden quilt-cover set is a wildly romantic addition to the bedroom. It features a monotone print with selected pops of colour on one side and a soft and sweet set of stripes on the other. The set is priced from $199 for a single (with one pillowcase) to $279 for a king (with two pillowcases).
